Business Commentary:

a. Fruit & Vegetable Pulps:

Unseasonal rains this summer posed challenges to the beverage consumption in Q1 of this financial year. The outlook continues to be bullish for the entire season ahead. The beverage brands are spending money on connecting with the end consumers to increase consumption and we see that demand coming through in the coming quarters. Raw Material prices this mango season was lower for the crop Totapuri and marginally higher for Alphonso. We have crushed more than 30% mangoes as compared to the previous season thereby resulting in a higher tonnage that we expect to sell. The order book looks promising for mango. Tomato pulp continues to show promising growth for us and we propose to double up our capacities in this business. The current retail market prices of tomato does not impact us as most of our contracts are cost plus in nature.

b. Spray Dried powders:

With the new capacity coming on stream, we have broad based our product mix and the audit process with brands are currently on. The new technology is giving us a cost-effective edge in the market.

c. Frozen Food:

The Vankal frozen facility which has been commissioned recently will be beneficial to process fruits and vegetables at an optimum cost during peak season time which will give us an edge in the competitive market.

d. Kusum Spices:

We experienced strict control on pesticide residue in spices in the Gulf export market which impacted our sales in Q1 FY'24. We have started mitigating this challenge through various initiatives like sourcing from pesticide compliant certified farmers in FY'24 which we started sourcing in Q1 this financial year. Also, we are targeting multiple newer avenues in the export and domestic market to ensure growth in this business. We are exploring advanced technologies to cater to specific newer geographies.

e. Tetra Recart:

Our new Tetra Recart facility at Vankal has been operationalized end of March 2023 and the current season production under our brand 'Madhu' for mango Aamras has been launched in the Gujarat market. Our launches going ahead would be under the RTE segment with 6 SKUs ranging from Soups to Curries by October 2023 under the brand 'Greentop'. Simultaneously we are exploring all co-packing opportunities in domestic and international markets.
